

Larchfield Community Development Association (LCDA) was formed in 2004 and serves the community in the Annahilt, Aughnaleck, Cabra, Duneight, Legacurry and Magheradartin areas outside Hillsborough and also those who have associations with or roots in the locality.

LCDA provides educational, social and recreational activities for members of the community of all ages.

The Association meets on the third Thursday of each month (except July, August and December) and has a diverse programme of activities. In addition there have been periodic educational or social activities which have included, book club, computer classes, photography and sequence dancing.

We also hold annual events which include a BBQ and dance, Vintage Rally and Family Fun Day, Children's Halloween party and Children and Adults Christmas parties.

We are privileged to be able to meet in Legacurry Orange Hall, Glebe Road, Hillsborough at Aughnaleck crossroads which affords us excellent facilities for our activities.

A committee of nine is elected annually from within the membership of the Association.
